Bringing Choral Masterworks to the Conejo Valley

MUSIC FOR EVERYONE

About Us

BRINGING CHORAL MASTERWORKS TO THE CONEJO VALLEY

We are a non-audition chorus that feels that its purpose is to provide not only an artistic outlet for the greater Conejo Valley region, but also a social outlet. We provide a space for amateur musicians to come perform masterworks, and open our doors to high school and college students to come and sing in a professional setting for free.

VISION

We strive to develop an engaging environment where individuals of all backgrounds feel free to express themselves through the art of singing.

MISSION

We are a non-auditioned chorus that exists to promote and develop choral music locally. We value integrity, diversity, creativity, and collegiality to foster personal fulfillment in rehearsal and performance.

Through the generosity of our donors and sponsors, students can join for free!

COMMUNITY | MUSIC | EDUCATION

Our ensemble exists to provide a place for amateurs and professionals alike to come and make music each week, leading up to a weekend of performances. We also take it upon ourselves to invest into high school and college students education by opening our doors for free and allowing students to collaborate in a professional setting. It is by crossing generational barriers that we are able to bring together people from all backgrounds to create art in the Conejo Valley region.

DIRECTORS

CONOR WHALEN

Music + Artistic Director

Conor Whalen is a Los Angeles-based conductor working in opera, orchestral, and choral fields of music. He has served as the assistant conductor for the Newburyport Choral Society, Boston Conservatory at Berklee Opera, and OperaNEO (San Diego).
